Macronix Announce the Original 2002 Financial Forecast Should be Revised

Hsinchu, Taiwan, July 2, 2002 - Macronix International Co., Ltd. ("MXIC" , "the Company") (TAIEX: 2337, NASDAQ: MXICY), today announced the original 2002 financial forecast, filed in accordance with local regulatory requirements, should be revised. Macronix expects that the new financial forecast; Net Sales of NT$19 billion, Net Income before Tax: negative NT$9.8 billion, Net Income: negative NT$9.6 billion, Earning per Share: negative NT$2.59, A formal financial forecast will be announced after CPA review.

The Company's quarterly sales had hit bottom in the first quarter of 2002, however, given the semiconductor industry will only be resumed as a mild recovery this year. The key assumptions of product mix and product average selling price will not be met as the original financial forecast. Therefore, the net sales and gross profit is lower than original expectation. Due to the dropping average selling price pressure, the inventory write-down allowance need to be further accrued. The original net income before tax will not be met. As a result, the original financial forecast needs to be revised.

In accordance with the ROC government' s regulations, the Company is required to file its annual financial forecast. However, given the nature of volatile semiconductor industry cyclic pattern, It is difficult to accurately forecast the company' s financial projection for whole year. In order to provide shareholders with regularly updated operation and business condition. Macronix voluntary makes quarterly investor conference to all investors regarding the performance of previous quarter as well as the guidance of upcoming quarter.

Media Conference on Macronix's Revision of the Original 2002 Financial Forecast

Taipei, Taiwan, July 3, 2002 - Macronix International Co., Ltd. ("MXIC" , "the Company") (TAIEX: 2337, NASDAQ: MXICY), held a media conference regarding to the revision of the original 2002 financial forecast at press room of the Taiwan Stock Exchange,

Chief Financial Officer & A.V.P., Mr. Paul Yeh said, " the announcement of revision was in accordance with local regulatory requirements, When the Company discovered the key assumptions of product mix and product average selling price will not be met as the original financial forecast, the net sales and gross profit is lower than original expectation, the inventory write-down allowance need to be further accrued. As a result, the deviation of the original financial forecast was exceeding the revision standard providing by local regulatory" , The Company filed the announcement to Taiwan Stock Exchange immediately.

The reduction of 24 % Net Sales projection is based on the lower than expected average selling price in 2nd half of 2002, the change of product mix in shipments; In which the projection of Mask ROM unit shipments is lower than expectation, while the projection of Flash unit shipments is higher than expectation, therefor, the Gross Profit is impacted by the negative gross margin on Flash,

In the Non-operating Expense, the inventory write-down allowance was accrued by the aging report (OBS) and marked to market price (LCM) on Flash. The inventory level will be keep on 2-3 months of annual sales after the write down, as a result, the Net Income is negative NT$96 billion.
